

I have studied this issue and want to let you know that I do not support deregulation. I am very concerned about the increasing "sameness" of media coverage and the decrease in attention to local details.